CITY INTELLIGENCE.

FRIDAY, Sept. 16. CIVIL COURTS .- In the Marine Court an action was brought by Moses H. Ogden against John Woodruff, to recover two splendid couches, valued at $110, said to have been fraudulently obtained by the latter. The parties reside at Elizabethtown, N. J., and Mr. Ogden kept a cabinet store at 146 Fulton-street. On the 25th April the defendant went to the store and told the clerk that he had agreed with Mr. Ogden for the purchase of the couches, and induced him to deliver them to him. Mr. O. denies having made any such agreement, and brings the present action. It would seem that Mr. O. was in failing circumstances, owing Woodruff & Co. and, since that time, has falled. The counsel for plaintiff stated that defendant meant to get his pay even by misrepresentation and the use of "grab law." The Jury gave a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $160.

TRIAL FOR LIBEL .- Dr. Lucius J. Comstock was put upon spon his trial on an indictment charging him with a libel on William Burritt, Druggist, as published in the Sun, newspaper, about the 16th of February, 1842. The article deemed libelous charged the complainant with a forgery in coun. terfeiting the name of Taylor to a certain patent medicine called Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, which it was averred by complainant he had precured of Mrs. Thayer, formerly of 575 Bowery, then of Spring-street, who claimed to be the

It was brought from Thayer's, 375 Bowery. (The Recorder suggested that if there was any other evidence to prove the publication of the advertisement by Dr. Comstock, it had better be produced now.) A controversy arose between the counsel as to the liability of the defendant for publishing under the evidence; the Court said the matter must be decided by the jury. Mr. Mulock then called the complainant, William J. A letter was handed to witness, who said it was defendant's hand-writing. This was soon after taken by defendant and torn up, on which the complainant's counsel appealed to the Court, and a controversy arose between the counsel. Dr. Constock ex-plained by saying that as it had been read and was an old letter of his, of no value, which he supposed came from his counsel's papers, he tore it up, and expressed his regret therefor and the matter dropped-toe pieces of the letter

RECOMMENDATIONS.

From J. H. Linsley, DD. President Marietta College, Ohio.

Marietta College, Ohio, January 27, 1242.

Mr. Zepheniah Bosworth—Sir—I have in use one of your improved air-tight Stoves. There are, I nelieve, several varieties of this kind of stove in use in the country. It is not necessary that I should compare yours with others. I will only say that I prefer yours to any other which ! have seen in operation, and indeed to any close stove which I have errer seen. The following are among its excellencies:

1. It throws out a great amount of heat. 2. It consumes a very small quantity of finel in proportion to the space warmed. 3. The control of the door and the damper over the draught is so entire, that you may graduate the temperature of the room, as you please. If the stove be properly managed, the air is never scorched, and no water is required on the stove. 4. It is admirably adapted to the sick room where a steady fire and even temperature is required. 5. The process of consuming the fuel used, is so show that your room is kept moderately warm by a good sized stick of salid dry wood, from 3 to 10 hours. Hence its superio ity as a sick room stove, or for offices where you have frequent occasion to leave your fire unrenewed, for a considerable time. 6. The safety of 1 e stove is perfect. I ought, perhans to add, that the large sizes though more costly at first. casion to leave your life unrenewed, for a consistent time. 6. The safety of the slove is perfect. I ought, per-haps to add, that the large sizes, though more coxily at first, are the most economical, and exhibit the peculiar excellen-lencies of the stove to the best advantage, because with them your room is warmed while the draught is kept at the low-est point.

Yours, &c. J. H. LINSLEY.

I am sixty-four years of age; have been for four years scriously afflicted with the asthma, have tried several physicians, and taken many "certain" cures of great expense and without any essential advantage. For two years I was not able to pass the whole of a night in my bed. Onconsulting Dr. Wadsworth, of this city, about my case, he advised me to take Dr. Jayne's Expectorant. This medicine operated as he told me it would do. I have taken five bottles of it, and consider myself in a manner cured by it. I can now lay comfortably all night; am free from the tightness of the lungs and weakness of the stomach, which so dreadfully benefited by the operation. lungs and weakness of the stomach, which so dreadfully distressed and reduced me. In short, life had become fairly burdensome to me—now I enjoy it, though I am not entirely free from other infirmities attendant upon old age.
